Description of Duties:

This is an entry-level technical position in the Department of Transportation responsible for assisting engineering and higher-level technical staff in performing field and office investigative and survey work. This title differs from the Senior Traffic Engineering Technician by its emphasis on data collecting and recording and its limited responsibility for the analysis and recommendations placed on that data. The employee reports directly to and works under the general supervision of a Principal or Senior Traffic Engineering Technician.

Scope of Examination:

The written, multiple-choice test will cover knowledge, skills and/or abilities in such areas as:

1. Principles and practices of traffic and transportation technology

These questions test for knowledge of traffic and transportation technology concepts and their practical applications, including materials, terminology and procedures used, computations related to the construction and operation of roadways and related facilities, traffic and transportation studies and data interpretation, and safety issues.

2. Traffic control devices and regulations and collection, analysis and presentation of data

These questions test for knowledge of the uses, placement, laws, rules and regulations related to various types of traffic safety and traffic control devices such as pavement markings, work zone markings, signs and traffic signals, and the proper procedures and terminology used to gather, evaluate, organize and utilize various types of technical data related to transportation and traffic studies.

3. Interpretation of plans, charts, graphs and technical instructions

These questions test for the ability to read, analyze and perform simple computations based on technical written material and various types of technical drawings and graphic presentations. All the information needed to answer the questions is presented in the written information and/or drawings, charts and graphs.

4. Mathematics related to traffic and transportation technology and computerized drafting techniques

These questions test for the ability to read, understand and solve traffic and transportation related problems by performing mathematical computations, and for elementary knowledge of the concepts, terminology and proper procedures to use when creating technical drawings utilizing computerized drafting software.

Calculators and Reference Materials:

Most civil service written tests do not require the use of a calculator or slide rule. However, the use of calculators is ALLOWED for this exam. Candidates have the option of bringing a hand-held, quiet, battery or solar-powered arithmetic calculator or a slide rule to the test room. Candidates will not be permitted to use calculators containing spell check, dictionary, language translator, address or telephone book, personal digital assistants, or typewriter keyboard features, or any similar devices. You may not bring books or other reference materials.

This written examination is being prepared and rated in accordance with Section 23(2) of the Civil Service Law.
