In smaller installations, work is less specialized and encompasses a broader spectrum of duties that may involve providing customer support services. This position differs from the lower level Network Administrator II by virtue of being more far-reaching when performing activities such as supporting system networking services, and providing the highest level of technical support in various areas such as supporting project teams all of which hold a higher consequence of error. The employee reports directly to, and works under the general supervision of an administrative staff member.

Scope of Examination:

The examination will consist of a rated evaluation of training and experience test.

Rated Evaluation of Training and Experience:

All candidates who meet the minimum qualifications will be sent a letter directing them to a web-site to complete a questionnaire that asks for specific facts about your information technology education (formal degrees, IT-related training courses, certifications) and experience. You will also be asked to briefly describe a significant achievement in each of the job's areas and to provide the name and contact information for someone who can verify your information. The information you provide about your experience will be rated against the following areas:

- Computer Programming
- Help Desk
- User Support
- Network Administration
